

£8
exc. p&p

Queen Betty, or Beataidh Banrigh as she is known by her Gaelic-speaking friends, is a friendly and helpful rare bumblebee who lives a peaceful life amongst the wild flowers. But when greedy and mischievous honeybees show up, she and her family need help to survive. What will she do? Who will help her?

A tale of friendship and nature conservation created by Tìree Primary School children and told in both Gaelic and English. With a host of fun characters and beautiful illustrations that will appeal to all ages.

AVAILABLE FROM:
gybb@friendsoftiree.org.uk

21 x 21 cm | 54 colour pages | Pairwood Publishing 2021